Can You Deal With Reds?

Speaking in Fort Worth, Gen. C. B. Cabell, the deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, said the other night that the free world is facing a military threat from the Soviets and also added that the Kremlin is promoting "a revolution which is unique in the history of dictatorships."

Cabell said that Premier Nikita Khrushchev and his allies want to dominate the whole world. Theirs is the language of total war.

That the war is being waged on all fronts was being emphasized at almost the same time by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, who was reporting that "at this very moment", Communists are planning a Dec. 31 conference to be held in Chicago to formulate plans for a new youth organization in the United States.

Apparently the Reds in this country have come to the conclusion that American young people are not as well equipped to resist the Communist pitch—which can be made very, very subtly—as are older people.

The FBI and the House committee on un-American activities have already pretty convincingly established that the student demonstrations against a meeting of the House group in San Francisco were largely directed by professional Communist agitators with the majority of the youths involved unwitting dupes.

Hoover also expressed concern not only about the activities of U. S. Communists but also about spying by the Russians themselves in this country.

"FBI investigations during 1960 disclosed that an alarming number of Soviet and satellite diplomatic personnel have intelligence assignments" here, he said.

The battle is, as these reports show, being waged on many fronts.

We are deeply troubled by the number of Americans who tend to underestimate Red activity right under our own noses, and by the vocal minority which is constantly insisting that we "deal" with the Russians.

There can be no dealing.

As Cabell said, the Kremlin's language is "the language of total war." Hot or cold, war is what we're in, and the sooner we accept that fact the better will be our chance of winning it.
